

Federated Insurance Extends Unique Opportunity to All Members

RACCA Members:

In this time of uncertainty, families and businesses want to ensure that their financial affairs are in order. As a longstanding partner of RACCA, Federated Mutual Insurance Company is extending a unique opportunity to all association members: a complimentary review of business succession and estate plans by a member of their independent attorney network*. Whether you have a plan that is outdated, or no plan at all, a review via video conference with one of these attorneys can help provide you peace of mind.

Referrals to this independent attorney network are normally reserved for Federated Insurance clients, but are available to all RACCA members during this time of crisis. If you and your family and/or business partners are interested in scheduling one of these video conferences, contact DJ Hanlin by e-mail djhanlin@fedins.com or phone 614-395-6412.

We wish you and your family safety and peace during these troubling times.
